ARCH 583: PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE(S)

FALL 2015
Professor Eric Hill
ejhill@umich.edu

Mondays
1:00 to 4:00 pm
A&AB
Room 2104

This (M.Arch. required) course introduces students to essential elements of professional practice in architecture and related professions. It will equip the student with fundamental knowledge and skills requisite to an understanding of, and participation in, the conduct of professional practice. Basic principles of business management, project management, human resources management, leadership, stakeholder relations, legal responsibilities, ethical conduct, project delivery methods and related financial considerations are explored through case studies, readings and lectures.